

NORSMA 8 - Connecting research and practice
First announcement and Call for papers

The 8th Nordic research conference on special needs education in mathematics will be held at

Kristianstad University, Sweden, in November 2015.

Please reserve Teachers day to November 18 and Conference days to November 19 – 20.

We will welcome papers communicating research or developmental work on the topic of special needs education in mathematics. The language of the conference will be English and the Scandinavian languages.

Deadline for submission of papers will be in August 2015. More details will appear in the second announcement that will be online in March 2015.